Newsprint in Europe – Key facts

- Demand: We estimate a small growth to continue, but risk for decline in the most mature markets
- Trade situation – less visibility:
 - Canadian tonnage coming back to earlier levels, after very low shipments in 2006
 - Less room for export to Asia short and medium-term
- Risk for new capacity:
 - Two new paper machines are announced in the UK

Magazine paper in Europe – Key facts

- Demand: Good growth is expected to continue
- Trade situation:
 - Large changes in export volumes from one year to the next
 - YTD April '07: Export from Europe down by >100' tonnes = 12 %
- Capacity situation:
 - One new paper machine under construction in Germany
 - Closures are announced and to some extent taken
- Industry structure: Two big companies, several smaller

Newsprint in China

- Strong demand growth will continue
- Too much new capacity:
 - 1.5 - 2 million tonnes in 2006-2008
 - Has lead to certain export out of China, and low domestic prices
- Early signs of improved market discipline
