

Norske Skog
Boyer

Sustainable Forest Management Policy Statement

Norske Skog is one of the world's leading suppliers of wood-containing printing paper. The Norske Skog Boyer mill is part of the Norske Skog global group. We manufacture newsprint and improved newsprint products at our site at Boyer, Tasmania, Australia.

Norske Skog Boyer sustainably manages forests to provide a long term, high quality supply of fibre to the mill.

Norske Skog is committed to:

- Managing our forest estate to provide an economically viable, long term, sustainable supply of fibre to the Boyer mill whilst minimising our impact on the environment.
- Conservation of biodiversity, protection of soil and water quality, protection of cultural heritage and provision of social and economic benefits.
- Maintaining comprehensive forest management systems compatible with the Australian Forestry Standard.
- Achieving continual improvement of our environmental performance through proactive and vigilant management, monitoring and review of our operations.
- Conducting our activities in compliance with relevant environmental legislation, regulations and permit conditions.
- Investigating ways to reduce the impact of our operations where significant risks are identified.
- Using processes, practices, materials or products that minimise our impact on the environment.
- Communicating with openness and honesty and working co-operatively with our people, the community and stakeholders on forest management issues.
- Ensuring our staff, business partners and service providers are aware of our sustainable forest management policy and are able to fulfil their environmental responsibilities accordingly.
- Providing adequate training and resources to support policies and programs

Rod Bender

General Manager – Boyer Mill
May 2009

Printed copies are uncontrolled

